Today’s Reflection Questions (Personal or Small Group)

1. How do you hear Psalm 90?
2. Studies suggests older people are happier than younger people. May this be due to their acceptance of death?
3. How has your understanding of living and dying changed as you have grown older?
4. Despite the increase in life expectancy, we seem to live in a culture that glorifies youth. Is denial of aging and dying involved in all this?
5. How might we best teach children about death and dying, and what might we learn from them?
6. What thing can you do very well that many contribute “a tiny fraction” to the “magnificent enterprise that is God’s work?”

Psalm 90

A prayer of Moses, the man of God.

- 90 Lord, you have been our help,
generation after generation.
- ² Before the mountains were born,
before you birthed the earth and the inhabited world—
from forever in the past to forever in the future, you are God.
- ³ You return people to dust,
saying, “Go back, humans,”
- ⁴ because in your perspective a thousand years
are like yesterday past,
like a short period during the night watch.
- ⁵ You sweep humans away like a dream,
like grass that is renewed in the morning.
- ⁶ True, in the morning it thrives, renewed,
but come evening it withers, all dried up.
- ⁷ Yes, we are wasting away because of your wrath;
we are paralyzed with fear on account of your rage.
- ⁸ You put our sins right in front of you,
set our hidden faults in the light from your face.
- ⁹ Yes, all our days slip away because of your fury;
we finish up our years with a whimper.
- ¹⁰ We live at best to be seventy years old,
maybe eighty, if we’re strong.
But their duration brings hard work and trouble
because they go by so quickly.
And then we fly off.
- ¹¹ Who can comprehend the power of your anger?
The honor that is due you corresponds to your wrath.
- ¹² Teach us to number our days
so we can have a wise heart.
- ¹³ Come back to us, LORD!
Please, quick!
Have some compassion for your servants!
- ¹⁴ Fill us full every morning with your faithful love
so we can rejoice and celebrate our whole life long.
- ¹⁵ Make us happy for the same amount of time that you afflicted us—for the same number of years that we saw only trouble.
- ¹⁶ Let your acts be seen by your servants;
let your glory be seen by their children.
- ¹⁷ Let the kindness of the Lord our God be over us.
